

Good Samaritan Refugee Child Support Program, 8th Term (November 2026 to April 2027): Recruiting Families with Children 18 Months Old or Younger

Rene Asmussen / CC0 / Wikimedia Commons

At a glance

The 8th term of MAP's Good Samaritan Refugee Child Support Program is looking for 4 families raising a child aged 18 months or younger (asylum seekers, humanitarian status holders, or people who are undocumented after a decision of non-recognition of refugee status). The program provides 350,000 won per month for six months.

Program Overview

- Support period: (8th term) November 2026 to April 2027 (6 months)
- Eligibility: Refugee children living in Korea who are 18 months old or younger
- Support provided: Childcare expenses
- Amount: 350,000 won per month
- Number of recipients: 4 per term

Checks During the Support Period

During the support period, MAP looks after the child's development and safety together with the family.

- Phone interviews: MAP talks with the guardian by phone at least once a month.
- Home visits: MAP visits the home at least once during the 6-month support period.

How to Apply

Fill in and submit the new support application form using a Google Form (an online form). Choose the language that is easiest for you.

Korean application form

English application form

Arabic application form

French application form

Plain explanation

Under the Refugee Act, an asylum seeker is a foreign national who has applied for refugee recognition in Korea. This includes people whose cases are still under review.

Read the full article

refugeelifekorea.org/en/news/good-samaritan-refugee-child-support-8th-2026/

Contact refugeelifekorea@mapcast.org / 02-2038-0231